

Songs of The Sea, Soil and Skies

An interactive musical journey through natural landscapes for very young children

About:

In this interactive concert and workshop, multi-instrumentalist Beth Hopkins (Cloud Cuckoo Land's Musical Director & Early Years Lead) takes children aged 0-5 on an exploratory journey around the environments of our natural world, supported by another music facilitator from our pool.

Children can develop their music and movement skills and creative confidence by joining in with the music-making through singing, playing instruments, responsive movement and exploring objects. They can begin to voice, celebrate, and query their relationship with their immediate environment and the wider world, and learn to use their innate creative skills to express freely and without judgement, in a fun, safe and exciting environment.

Designed with the EYFS framework in mind, Songs of The Sea, Soil and Skies is firmly rooted in the 'Understanding the World' and 'Arts and Expressive Design' Learning Goals.
